

Hey I'm Mr. Taylor a film teacher at Freestyle
I'd like to say one of my core values are sharing with my students
(Mr. Taylor stealing students food)

Of course I maintain a good balanced diet to encourage students to have healthy habits
(Mr. Taylor only drinking chocolate milk, with his yoohoo, more milk, snacks, and whey protein in the background)

I really value community building and maintaining a warm relationship with my students
(insert Mr. Taylor eavesdropping with mic, students talking about school drama)
I like to think of them as friends

I can come off as uhhhhh passionate when explaining concepts to my students but I really am patient whenever they ask questions
(insert of Mr. Taylor telling off a student to go figure it out themselves, while searching up the question they asked)

I try to provide a quality classroom to my students; you know a lot of kids don't know what good movies are anymore
(insert of Mr. Taylor measuring posters and pointing to them and shouting at students and student quietly saying they don't like it and Mr. Taylor giving a side eye)

You know being a teacher is hard but if I could go back in time
