
Screenwriter's Crash Course

By Isaac Lui

(Grand) Opening!

The Hero's Journey. A grand adventure filled with complex, diverging aspects that creates a beautiful narrative that is shown as an incredible masterpiece in the film world.

But how do the actors and film crew of the movie know what needs to be done in order to perform well in such a masterpiece? That is the purpose of SCREENWRITING!

Why Screenwriting?

Screenwriting is something that I am passionate about and have a strong connection to as a career choice. I actually am going to UCLA to study screenwriting, so why not take the opportunity to learn it ahead of time. I aim to improve my creativity in both producing ideas, maintaining originality, and building up my public personality through my screenplays.

Sample of my Explorations film

Overall, I simply wanted to do a fast draw of screenwriting so that my Explorations film was quick in easy. Research was easy, the hard part was creating an outline for my research and editing it. I was inspired by Draw My Life videos to style my Explorations film to its current style. The reason for that is I needed to create a screenplay for my short film about screenwriting (funny isn't it). I am happy to say I had a lot of fun with making this project.

If this interests you... THEN GET OUT THERE AND MAKE SOMETHING AMAZING!

Screenwriting to me is more than just creating an elaborate story for either profit, fame, or even recognition. I view screenwriting as a passionate project that I continuously perfect, and yet it does not reach the potential of true perfection.

"The Chinese say that 'the longest journey begins with the first step', and in many philosophical systems "endings and beginnings" are connected; as in the concept of yin and yang, two concentric circles joined together, forever united, forever opposed. If you can find a way to illustrate this in your screenplay, it is to your advantage."
