Step 3, Try, test out different colors, and techniques

Step 4, Finish Project

The materials I used

- Canvas Paper
- Baby Oil
- Paint Brushes

Process

Here is the halfway look

Conflicts

My main conflict that kept on recurring was keeping the colors separated, as I had a baby blue sky next to a bright red bridge. Another conflict was learning how to blend the colors, was definitely challenging

Reflection

Overall I am really happy that I took on a new challenge, and was able to explore something new. As well as overcome challenges. This was extremely rewarding by trying out something new and seeing it all the way threw

Thank you!
